

Register Today for the DRS 2021 Virtual Annual Meeting!

There's no need to travel to get the great content that the DRS Annual Meeting has been known to deliver. Be sure to block your calendar to participate from the comfort of your home or office for full days on March 9-12, 2021. Our schedule of presentations and other conference events will follow a format that's similar to our in-person meetings.

This year's Pre-Conference on March 9 "Dysphagia Education, Research and Care: Adapting and Evolving Practices in a Changing World" includes an expert line up of invited speakers. The Annual Meeting on March 10-12 will include topics related to "Assessment and Treatment of Swallowing Disorders: Addressing Mechanisms." In addition to the stellar round up of presentations, with the opportunity to ask questions, the virtual conference experience will include poster presentations, exhibits, and networking.

Can't commit to participating in the live virtual conference? No problem! Sessions will be recorded and available on demand to meet the needs of participants and continuing education credits (over 22 hours!) will be available.

The DRS Annual Meeting is an outstanding opportunity for scientific exchange among clinicians, researchers, residents, physicians, fellows, and students from a wide range of disciplines including gastroenterology, neurology, otolaryngology, radiology, speech-language pathology, nutrition, biomedical engineering, dentistry, pediatrics, psychology, and the basic sciences, who take care of patients with swallowing disorders, including aspiration, and/or conduct research in the area of deglutition and deglutition disorders.

If you haven't already done so, please be sure to join or renew your 2021 DRS membership now to receive the reduced registration rate of $195. Student members pay just $75.
